Welcome to your TUI Airways flight.

Whether you're just setting off on your long-awaited holiday or heading home after an incredible trip, here's everything you need to know about our onboard services – from food and drink to shopping and entertainment.

YOUR NEXT GIN IS A TEQUILA

1800
TEQUILA

Flights under seven hours

If you're flying for seven hours or less, you can choose to buy hot food, snacks, drinks and sweet treats from our Café magazine. Have a flick through and see what takes your fancy.

Flights over seven hours

Meals are included on flights over seven hours. You'll get a main meal with wine or juice, followed by tea or coffee, and a light bite before landing.

The crew will offer a drinks service during your flight, too – the number of times they'll pass through depends on how long you're flying for. Hot, soft, and alcoholic drinks are included, but bubbly costs extra. Let the cabin crew know if you'd like some, and they'll chill it for you.

Still peckish?

You can buy additional snacks and nibbles from our Café magazine – from sweet treats to savoury bites.

Duty-free limits

On flights from the EU to Great Britain, you can buy up to four litres of duty-free spirits per person, free of excise duties and VAT within limits. Just so you know, other rules apply if you're flying to an EU country from Great Britain. We also offer tobacco on some of our flights.

Ask a member of the cabin crew for a price list – it includes your customs allowance, too.

Flying from Ireland?

Scan the QR code to see what's available on your flight. For info about payments, see page 79.

Entertainment

If you're on a 787 Dreamliner, you can watch films, TV series, music, podcasts and games on your seat-back screen – and if you're on a 737 you can access all sorts of features via our Streaming & Connectivity platform. For flights over seven hours, you'll get free headphones. For shorter flights, you can buy a set from the cabin crew. Take a look at page 76 for more info.

Premium upgrades

Did you know you can upgrade to Premium if you're flying for more than seven hours on a 787 Dreamliner? Airport security fast-track, a dedicated lounge on your outbound journey and priority boarding are all included – not to mention more luggage allowance and a bigger seat pitch. Just upgrade to Premium when you book your next trip and prepare to fly like a VIP...

The difference between eau de toilette and eau de parfum is all about intensity. Eau de toilette has a lower percentage of perfume oil, while eau de parfum has a higher concentration, so the scent is more intense and lasts longer.

Top tip

Don't get caught up in the mist of it all – store your fragrances in a cool place away from windows. Over time, heat and light can break down the perfume and reduce its quality.

Speaking of long-lasting... Perfume layering is a hot topic right now, and it's as straightforward as the name suggests. You can get more out of your favourite scents by layering them with body lotions or shower gels in the same fragrance family. Try rubbing petroleum jelly on the places you're going to spray fragrance, like your wrists, neck and behind your ears. It'll help your skin hold the scent for longer.

MICHAEL KORS POUR FEMME

50ML EDP

Michael Kors Pour Femme wraps you in luxury, confidence and sensuality. The journey begins with fresh notes of mandarin, pink peppercorn and blackcurrant. This opening, juicy and tantalizing, awakens the senses and energizes body and soul. The heart of the fragrance is luxe and feminine, a refined bouquet of delicate jasmine and robust rose blossoms made modern by the harmonious balance of sparkling fruit top notes and an earthy wood base. Over time, the deep and lasting sensuality of the fragrance reveals itself thanks to the silage of base notes including creamy vanilla, seductive musk and woody patchouli leaves.

Branching out and swimming on

From the depths of the ocean to the heights of the forest, two of nature's legendary OGs are playing a vital role in holding the planet together – one flipper and leaf at a time.

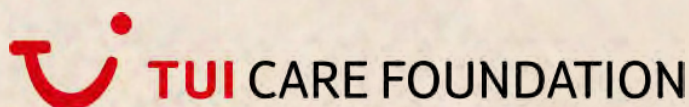

Sea turtles begin life in a dramatic dash from sand to surf, embarking on a journey spanning thousands of miles and decades of survival. These graceful seafarers are ecological powerhouses. As they glide through our oceans they prune seagrass beds, support coral reef health and carry nutrients across marine habitats. Quietly and consistently, they help to keep the ocean in balance. Meanwhile on land, trees are the unsung custodians of our planet, shaping entire ecosystems and sustaining local communities. As well as storing carbon and regulating climate, their branches offer shelter to birds and insects, their roots anchor soil and filter water, and their leaves breathe out the oxygen we all depend on.

But from rising seas to vanishing forests, sea turtles and trees are under threat. This is where the TUI Care Foundation comes in, on a mission to protect the environment and empower lives in travel destinations around the world. It's TUI Forests and TUI Turtle Aid programmes offer a refreshing dose of optimism.

TUI Forests blends conservation with sustainable development, from community-run nurseries to forest-based tourism experiences in destinations like Spain, Kenya, Peru and Indonesia. And in coastal regions, TUI Turtle Aid protects endangered sea turtles and safeguards turtle nests, as well as creating turtle-friendly beaches that help increase survival rates. It also gives holidaymakers tips on how to protect local turtle populations, like not taking plastic to the beach or leaving litter behind, because both can do serious harm. If you'd like to support TUI Turtle Aid's vital work, choose one of the exclusive onboard products that include a donation to the programme. A treat for you and a treat for the turtles!

Want to get more involved? With every purchase of our special edition TUI Care Foundation insulated cup, a £2/€2 donation goes directly to the TUI Turtle Aid or TUI Forests programme, depending on which design you buy. But that's not all. If you scan the QR code on your cup, you'll find the Foundation's Adopt a Turtle and Adopt a Tree initiatives. Every tree adoption supports the care of a newly planted tree seedling in one of the TUI Care Foundation's forests around the world and every turtle adoption helps to protect sea turtles for generations to come. What a great gift for yourself or your family and friends – which also leaves a lasting legacy for the planet!

For more information about the TUI Care Foundation, go to tuicarefoundation.com.

Safety in the sky

Your safety is our top priority, and nobody knows this more than TUI Airways First Officer, John Beevers.

We sat down with him to get all the important info you need to know when flying with us...

So, John, what can you bring on board, and what should you leave behind?

You can't bring anything classed as a 'hazardous material', like matches and flammable liquids, on board the plane as it's against the law. Something like a cigarette lighter – labelled a 'dangerous good' – is fine to have. Just a heads up though, you'll need to keep it with you at all times. If you need to bring needles and syringes for medical reasons, that's okay – you can dispose of them in the yellow sharps bins we have on every flight. Also, any items that could get in the way during an unlikely evacuation should be left at home. This includes things like foot hammocks, seat-to-bed converters and anything you can attach to your seat or tray table. Since these haven't been tested for use on planes, they're not allowed on board. If you're ever unsure, our cabin crew can lend a hand.

How about electronic gadgets? Any specific rules for these?

Yes. You can keep lightweight devices like tablets or small laptops in the seat pocket during the flight, as long as they're set to airplane mode. Any devices without an airplane mode can interfere with the systems of the plane, so for obvious reasons can't be used.

Please use headphones with devices that play sound to avoid disrupting others around you – just be sure to take them off for the safety demo.

People like to take photos during their flight. Anything they should know?

We love seeing those early holiday photos – it's all part of the fun and making memories, right? So, go ahead, snap those selfies and group shots, but remember to respect other passengers and our crew, and leave anyone you don't know out of your pics.

Being considerate of other passengers is really important. So, what else should we know about how to behave during the flight?

We know you're probably in a great mood getting ready for your holiday – who wouldn't be? However, that's not an excuse for things getting too rowdy. If the cabin crew spots anyone getting a bit too wild, they'll step in to calm things down. And if it keeps up, we might have to get in touch with the police, which nobody wants, right? So, let's all relax and enjoy the start of a well-earned getaway.

That leads nicely on to our final question about smoking and alcohol...

Yeah, it does. Smoking's a no-go, so no cigarettes, nicotine replacements or anything like that. We've got smoke detectors in every toilet, so if you light up, a fine will be coming your way when we land. Vaping? That's not allowed on the plane either, and if you're travelling with one, keep it with you at all times.

When it comes to drinks, remember only our crew can serve alcohol – so leave your duty-free stuff for when you're on the ground. Also, alcohol can hit you harder when you're high up, so our crew might have to say no to more drinks if it affects safety on board. And don't forget, it's actually illegal to be drunk on a flight. So, sip some water and take it easy when the drinks cart comes by.
